Madison, at 2 o'clock p. m., on Wednesday, July 23, for the purpose of appropriately celebrating the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the organization meeting.

Clinton, Wis., July 1st, 1879.

Thurman is "unable" to take part in the Ohio campaign this year. He don't want to march to Ewing's funeral.

The Wisconsin Democrats are struck with the "shakes" when they think of the fall campaign, and free quinine won't relieve them.

It gives Thurman, Hendricks, and Bayard the blues terribly, to hear that Tilden's health is on the boom, and that he is gaining rapidly in flesh.

Judge Davis expected to make political capital out of free quinine and cheap shakes, but like all of his political movements, it must prove a failure.

There does not seem to be any disposition on the part of the Democrats in this State to prepare for the canvass this fall.
They can't get up any enthusiasm when they know they are on the march to defeat.

Senator Hill is so deluged with the result of the extra session, that in point of importance he can't see any difference between it and the Declaration of Independence. The next election will wake Mr.
Hill up to a realizing sense of his stupidity.

The "hero of '73"—B. Gratz Brown—has written a letter for publication, to let the world know that he is still alive. The country will not soon forget B. Gratz Brown, and the tag which was so conspicuous in the memorable campaign of 1872.

The watering-places in the East are crowded with visitors this season, and promise to be more successful than during any former season. Coney Island, near New York, which has been raised from bad repute in the past two years, had a crowd of from 150,000 to 170,000 last Saturday.

The alliance agreed upon between the Greenbackers and the Democrats of Maine, is so unsatisfactory to the Belfast Journal, the ablest and most prominent Democratic paper in that State, that it has put the entire Republican ticket at the head of its columns, and bids a lasting farewell to the Democratic party.

The Ohio Republicans are trying to start a Sherman boom, and to further that scheme will do some hard work in that State this fall to make the Republican majority as large as possible. They say it Sherman takes an active part in the State canvass, and Foster receives 15,000 majority, the nomination of the great financier, will be a fixed fact.

The Madison Democrat says the bitterness between Governor Smith and Ludington is on the increase. The Democrat does not state the matter fairly. There is no bitterness whatever on the part of Governor Smith or his friends. The ill-feeling, if there is any connected with the gubernatorial question, exists only on the part of Ludington or his co-workers. The Governor is as serene over the whole matter as if there was no opposition to his renomination. In this he acts the part of a true gentleman, and a great many wish they could say this much of Ludington.

The Germans in Milwaukee have taken a decided position against the Ohio Democrats for the nomination of General Ewing. The Germans throughout the United States are almost unanimously in favor of the Republican financial policy. They believe in honest

THE NEWS.

Secretary Sherman's Forth-coming Speech at Portland.

The position recently taken by the two German Democratic newspapers in Milwaukee—the Banner and the See-Bote—indicates the state of feeling among the German Democrats in that city. The Democratic party can't hold the German masses nor the German newspapers when it deserts the cause of honest money. A short time since, the Milwaukee News, as blind a partisan paper as we can find anywhere, denied the statement made by the Evening Wisconsin that these two German papers had published editorials condemning the course of the Ohio Democrats. The News endeavored to make its readers believe that it had searched the files of these papers, and nothing reflecting on the Ohio Democrats or the nomination of Ewing had been found or could be found. The Evening Wisconsin shows up the News in a bad light by referring that paper to an issue of the Banner of the 14th of June, and of the See-Bote, of June 24. The Banner says that Ewing is destined to certain defeat, and that nearly all the German papers in Ohio are opposing him, because of his alliance with the Greenbackers. The Banner does not stop here, but asserts that if the Wisconsin Democrats adopt another Fond du Lac platform, "they will render it impossible for any friend of honest money to vote the Democratic ticket. The See-Bote is not less enthusiastic and determined in its opposition to the Democrats in Ohio, than the Banner. Among the sentences quoted and endorsed by the See-Bote are these: "Between Ewing and Foster, always for Foster." "We regard Ewing and his friends false Democrats, and shall therefore oppose their ticket with all our power." "We urge all our friends to vote against Ewing."

"The election in Ohio must decide whether the Democratic party shall be a swattery party, destitute of all real principles, led by Republican renegades, a mixture of weakness and cowardice, a corpse already fallen into putrefaction, the smell of which will drive off every honorable man." This is the political literature which the German Democratic papers in Milwaukee are serving up for the Democratic party in Wisconsin. How do the Democrats like the dish?

The quinine discussion is not over with withstanding the duty which was 20 per cent., has been taken off, and that indispensable drug is now admitted free from foreign countries. The effect already seen of repeating the tariff on quinine, illustrates the folly of certain free traders crying down what they choose to call monopolies.
The object in repealing the law placing a duty on quinine, was to make quinine cheaper. The duty of 20 per cent. was considered an outrage upon those who were shaking with ague, and burning with fever. Judge Davis, during the last course of the extra session, pictured a terrible state of affairs in the fever stricken districts of the country, because of the extravagant price of quinine. He went so far as to say that if the extra session did nothing more than to wipe out the duty on that important drug the country was well paid for the session. The Medical and Surgical Reporter, of Philadelphia, made the statement last week that the sick were obliged to pay more than twice as much for quinine, as they would were the duty removed. The Chicago Tribune had much to say during the discussion of the quinine bill in Congress, about the sick being compelled to pay tribute to powerful and rich monopolies. Well, the duty has been removed from that medicine, and what is the result? Is quinine any cheaper?
Are the sick relieved? No. Since the duty has been taken off quinine, the price has advanced in London 37½ cents per ounce, and it is predicted that before long, "free quinine" will fetch five dollars an ounce.
Why this result simply because a duty of 30 per cent has been removed, is not clearly understood. Those who expected that fever and ague could be made cheap by an act of Congress, are doomed to disappointment. It will cost just as much to shake with the ague and burn with fever as ever, so far as quinine is concerned. Hardly any one had the courage to oppose the measure to make that medicine free, though many had their doubts that the desired effect would be produced by repealing the tariff. But the work has been done, quinine is free from duty, but the price instead of going down is going up, and the sick are worse off than before. No sooner had the foreign manufacturers of quinine heard of the tariff being taken off that drug, than they began to prepare for an advance in the price, and by the three or four European firms combining, they can control the quinine market even in this country, and thus get almost any price they may demand. This rise may be spasmodic—it is to be hoped it is—but some of the leading druggists in the East predict that quinine will be dearer on account of the duty being removed. Time only can decide the fate of quinine.

Secretary Sherman's Forthcoming Speech.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—There is great interest here in the forthcoming speech of Secretary Sherman at Portland. The Republican Committee intend to circulate an immense number of copies of this speech in Ohio, California, and Maine.
Postmaster General Key and family will start to-morrow for an extended tour in New England.

GRAIN INSPECTION.

The Amount of Grain Inspected and Handled in Chicago in June.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 8.—The report of Chief Inspector Reynolds, presented to the Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners at their meeting to-day, shows that a very large amount of grain was handled at Chicago in June. The grain inspection department inspected in 24,869 cars of winter, spring, and mixed wheat, corn, oats, rye and barley; 1,234,940 bushels of spring wheat, corn, oats, and rye were received by canal and lake. There were 5,490,455 bushels of grain inspected out.

WISCONSIN TEACHERS.

The State Teachers' Association in Session at La Crosse.

LA CROSSE, July 8.—The Wisconsin Teachers' Association convened to-night in this city. Two hundred are present and more are arriving on every train.
Five hundred are expected. The Rev.
Dr. Nichols, of Milwaukee, delivered a lecture to an immense audience this evening. To-morrow will be devoted to the usual work of the association, and on Thursday there will be a steamboat excursion to Wisconsin. The convention of conductors of teachers' institutes was held Monday and Tuesday, adjourning to-night.
All the leading educators of the State were present.

SOUTHERN LABOR.

Senator Lamar on the Southern Labor Question.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Senator Lamar left Washington several days before the end of the session to fill engagements in Mississippi, and last night he returned and will remain ten days or two weeks. He gives a rather gloomy account of the labor troubles in Mississippi. He found the Kansass fever raging among the colored people to a greater degree than he had believed. Even those upon his own place have a touch of it, although the relations between employer and employee in this case have been exceptionally good. He says all sorts of wild stories obtain credence among the blacks, the main one being that the Government is to furnish them transportation to Kansas, a land of milk and money. He reports that recently a white man passed through his section carrying a red flag, and spreading the report that on a certain date a free train would pass over the road to carry colored people to Kansas. Hundreds of negroes collected along the road and are waiting for the free train, which, of course, will not come, as the whole affair was a crude hoax. The Senator thinks the excuses is not over by any means, as the blacks are excited by stories of free transportation furnished by the Government and free farms in Kansas, but that a good number who go will come back and dispel the rosy pictures of Kansass life.

THE PROSPECTS.

La Crosse, July 8.—Crop reports from many points in Northwestern Wisconsin and Southern Minnesota, received to-day, indicates much better condition of things than had been hoped for after the severe storm of Sunday. The cool, breezy weather of yesterday and to-day has done a world of good to the standing grain. The reports from all points west of La Crosse, forty miles from La Crosse on the Southern Minnesota, are all favorable. Wheat suffered little or no damage from the storm.

East of La Crosse, in the Root Valley, the hillside farms were pretty badly washed. Probably 300 acres of grain were destroyed in this section of Wisconsin.
More than half of the wheat this year is winter, which the farmers are now busy cutting.

DROWNED.

Milwaukee, July 8.—The members of the Chicago Traveling Club returned to this city from Pewaukee Lake to-day and left for home to-night on a Goodrich steamer. The Club broke camp sooner than they had anticipated doing, because of a sad accident yesterday forenoon.

Nine or ten members were out on the lake

CROP PROSPECTS.

Milwaukee, July 8.—The general grain markets were firm to-day, and as predicted in these dispatches, another advance was gained in the price of wheat ranging from 1 to 1½ cents. The rise to-day is ostensibly chargeable to the tone of European dispatches. Advances from the Northwest are more favorable. The damage by the recent storms has been local and small, while much benefit has been derived in other localities by the washing off of rust and chinch bugs. An abundant harvest is certain in the West, and the long heads do not anticipate, after the present squeeze is finished a rising market. There was much excitement to-day, but no immediate indication of a crash.

MCDONALD.

FOND DU LAC, July 8.—Gen. John Mc

Donald, the famous St. Louis whisky crook, who has been turned out of house and home by his Sylph and too much litigation, is now on trial in the Circuit Court here for an assault upon the person of W.
C. Williams, of Milwaukee. The assault was committed while Williams was acting as attorney for Mrs. McDonald, in proceedings for divorce and alimony. Sylph was recently fired out of a Green Lake summer resort, where she proposed to board.
Mrs. McDonald is dying of cancer of the stomach. The General's property is squandered, and he is now on trial for personal assault.

SUICIDE.

MILWAUKEE, July 8.—This morning

Peter Gerstner, the keeper of a saloon and summer garden on Mills street, committed suicide by cutting and shooting. He first opened the arteries at the wrist, and then placed the muzzle of a gun under his chin and pushed the trigger off with the ramrod the charge passing through his mouth and through the crown of his head. Gerstner was of unsound mind, and had once before attempted suicide.

SENTENCED.

LONDON, July 8.—Kate Webster has been found guilty of the murder of her mistress, Mrs. Thomas, at Richmond, and sentenced to death. It was ascertained that Mrs.

Thomas' body was boiled and thrown into the Thames, and the head destroyed by burning.

What Things May Come in Dreams.

From the Boston Transcript.

The man who wants to "sleep upon" a project before deciding may be wiser than he knows, for in that sleep his mind, unknown to him, may traverse the ground again, unhampered by his will, uninfluenced by his prejudices, and give him a clearer and better judgment. Who has not awakened to see light where all seemed dark the night before? Causeur remembers an instance in his own experience, back in his high school days. Good Mr. Sherwin had given the class a tough problem, which involved both geometry and algebra in its solution. Causeur took it home, and worked and worried over it all the evening.
He made diagrams without end, and wrote down equations without number, but the question, which was to give him the value of the unknown x, he could not evolve from them. Time and again a fresh start was made, but with no better result—there was still a link missing. Tired and disheartened he went to bed, and was soon fast asleep. In the early hours of the morning, when it was barely light, he awoke, and the first thing he was conscious of was that he had solved the problem—it was as clear as day. Rising at once, he sought a pencil, but finding none, used a half-burned match, and with this, on the marble of the mantel, noted down two short equations. Then he returned to bed, and slept. Later in the morning he worked out the equation, and carried the result in triumph to the old school-house on Bedford street.

Niagara Falls a few days ago—an occurrence which happened when the lady a cup of water from the rapids and fell in

I did not recognize him at once, but I soon saw that the face was the same, only the glossy black beard and hair was streaked with gray, the bright eyes had grown dim, and the well-knit, prosperous looking

THE NEWS.

Secretary Sherman's Forth-coming Speech at Port-land.

papers in Milwaukee—the Banner and the See-Bote—indicates the state of feeling
among the German Democrats in that
hold the German masses nor the German
honest money. A short time since, the
the statement made by the Evening Wis-
published editorials condemning the
papers, and nothing reflecting on the Ohio
had been found or could
that paper to an issue of the Banner of
June 24. The Banner says that Ewing is destined to certain defeat, and that nearly
all the German papers in Ohio are opposing him, because of his alliance with the Greenbackers. The Banner does not stop
here, but asserts that if the Wisconsin
Democrats adopt another Fond du Lac
platform, "they will render it impossible
position to the Democrats in Ohio, than the
endorsed by the See-Bote are these: "Between Ewing and Foster, always for Foster." "We regard Ewing and his friends
urge all our friends to vote against Ewing."

BRIEFLETS.

—July reigns.
—Hang to your umbrellas.
—David Jeffries' new hotel has reached the third story.
—The farmers don't need any blue glass. They begin to look blue without it.
—The First Methodist church folk hold a social at J. G. Hayner's this evening.
—Weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in their rooms this evening, at a quarter to eight o'clock.
—The shoe factory is one hundred orders behind, and is being pushed lively in order to keep the trade supplied.
—In the Circuit Court today a motion for a new trial in the case of Richardson vs. C. & N. W. R. Co., was argued, but the motion overruled.
—George Reese ought to feel proud, and doubtless does. He has five children whose names appear in the roll of honor published in the Gazette yesterday.
—Mrs. R. B. Curtis and her son, Rev. Olin A. Curtis, arrived today and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Conant. They are warmly welcomed to their old home by their many friends.
—Miss Anna McNeal plucked a strange rose this morning and sent it to the Gazette office for inspection. It is a full blown rose from the center of which is growing out a well developed bud. As a freak of nature it is a rare curiosity.
—The Daily Reformer of Monroe, comes today with the announcement that its publication will be suspended at least for two or three months. We are sorry to miss it from our exchange table, but business is business, and it don't pay to run a paper for glory altogether.
—The Presbyterian church has lately acquired the possession of a large amount of real estate. It consists of lots of mud thrown against its front door. It is supposed to be the work of some little mud pie makers, who did not realize the lawlessness of their acts. It is hard to believe that children of a large growth would thus bedaub a church front.
—Wingate is constantly getting in new goods—just the things to suit the weather and the trade. He has got a nice lot of parasols of all grades and prices, and a variety of fans to fight the summer heat with. In another column he calls attention to summer shawls too, and other goods to which all the ladies ought to look at. Prices are reduced and stock increased, and trade is always lively at Wingate's.
—That steer in the Second ward who has held the combination of the gate-locks with a radius of half a mile, and who has ransacked the yards and gardens there at his pleasure, has been sold to a butcher and the public can now have the satisfaction of tearing his flesh to pieces bit by bit. That steer could steer safely and successfully through any fence, and all will rejoice that his days are numbered. The Second ward gates will now only be fastened with six padlocks, the additional number being now unnecessary.
—Mr. W. M. Levick, of Beloit College, is now in the city securing subscriptions to an illustrated Bible commentary by Ingram Cobbin and published by Wm. Garretson & Co., of Chicago. The work unlike most of its kind is very readable, and especially so for young Bible students, the thought being put in plain simple language. It contains many facts and comments of great value, and its pages are copiously illustrated with steel engravings and wood cuts, making it a very attractive volume. The work is very highly endorsed by Prof. Swing, Rev. Dr. Chapin, of Beloit, Mr. F. L. Chappell, of this city, and many other ministers of all denominations. Its price is within the popular reach, and when seen and examined at leisure it speaks for itself as a work which every family library should contain. As a Sunday school help it is of great value, and in the home it cannot but awake fresh interest and enthusiasm in the study of the Bible.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 90 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m. today at 60 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 60 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 81 degrees above. Cloudy. Three hours steady rain, with thunder and lightning last night.
One year ago today at 7 o'clock a. m. the thermometer stood at 81 degrees above zero, and at 2 o'clock p. m. at 92 degrees above.

The indications today are, stationary or falling barometer, warmer south to east winds, partly cloudy weather and occasional light local rains.

A SHORT SPECIAL.

Last evening a special meeting of the Common Council was held, the Mayor presiding and all the Aldermen in their places except Ald. Cox and Davies.

In the case of Wm. R. Porter vs. The City of Janesville, it being the claim for payment of three old railroad bonds of $1,000 each, it was decided to employ Attorney John Winans to assist the City Attorney in defending the case.
Some orders for grading on Bluff street having been lost, they were restored by vote of the Council, the specifications of the engineer and estimate of grade established.

Adjournment was then taken.

SHOOTING A BURGLAR.

A Night prowler Receives a Probably Fatal Wound While Burglarizing a Store.

About 3 o'clock this morning two clerks, who were sleeping in George Mansfield's general store at Johnson's creek, were awakened by a noise at the window. A burglar placed a large bag over one of the windows to smother the noise, and then smashed a light of glass and entered. The clerks watched him as he progressed in his work. The burglar would light a match and as soon as he got his bearings would blow it out again, and soon strike another. As these matches were struck one of the clerks named Mansfield, a nephew of the proprietor of the store, had a large Colt's revolver, with which he took cool and close aim. He drew the bead well, and when he fired, a ball went zipping into the burglar's bowels and laid him out. The clerks picked him up and found that he was still alive, but suffering greatly. He was placed on a shutter and taken to the depot and sent by the freight train to Jefferson for treatment. The wounded man did not seem to have the air of a professional, but resembled a tramp in make-up. He had no arms with him and no tools. He gave his name as Edwards, and said he came from Fond du Lac on a freight train the night before. The result of his injury cannot be determined, but it is not unlikely that it will prove fatal as there is great internal bleeding. The clerks acted in a very cool manner, and took their own time in bringing the prowler down, having taken several sights before the shot was fired. The shot was meant to hit, and it did its work. The wounded man was very "nervy," and when asked if he was in pain, ground his teeth together, and coolly replied, "Well, I should rather say I was." He talked but little, and in spite of his condition was plucky.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART.

Miss Laura Murray on Being Reprimanded by Her Parents Commits Suicide.

From the Monroe Reformer we learn of the suicide of Miss Laura Murray, the daughter of Alex. Murray, a well-to-do farmer living between Brodhead and Albany. Last Monday Miss Laura, who was only seventeen years old, was reprimanded by her parents for some trivial offense, and this vexed her greatly, and she retired to her room. No importance was placed on the incident until half an hour later when the sharp crack of a revolver rang through the house. Going to her room her parents burst open the locked door, and there found their daughter weltering in her own blood, the ball having passed through her heart, causing instant death. Letters were found on the table, which Miss Laura had evidently written just before she committed the deed. One was to her parents and others to friends. They merely stated that she was tired of life, and desired to be free from further care or trouble, and closed with an affectionate good-bye. Miss Murray was of good family and with a happy home, many friends, and everything to make life joyous, the act seemed strange indeed. She had always borne a good reputation, and was greatly esteemed by all who knew her.

THE STABBING AFFRAY.

James and John Reardon appeared in the Police Court this morning, they being the young men charged with the stabbing of young Maher. One of the brothers, John, is out on bail, but the other has not been able to give the necessary $5,000 security and is still in the hands of the officers. As soon as they appeared this morning, a crowd of eager sight-seers commenced gathering, as though there was some rare specimen of some ferocious animal on exhibition. The boys look like other boys—smooth-faced, plainly-dressed, and in fact having nothing about them to mark them as being very different from hundreds of others seen upon the streets of any city. The lookers-on had little to satisfy their curiosity. District Attorney Sale appeared for the State and O. H. Fethers, Esq., for the defendant. Mr. Sale asked for a continuance. He said that young Maher was somewhat worse last evening, but was easier to-day. His case would probably turn one way or the other before ten days had passed. There was a possibility of his dropping away at almost any minute, but still his symptoms are not bad at present. Having thus described the condition of the wounded man, an adjournment was taken until next Tuesday, and the prisoners and the crowd walked down stairs again.

HYMNAL AT EVANSVILLE.

A very pleasant wedding occurred, July 31, in our quiet little village, at the residence of the officiating pastor, Rev. Mr. Robinson, the contracting parties being Mr. William W. Foye, of Union and Miss Sarah Hadley, oldest daughter of Peter Hadley, Esq., one of the pioneers and honored citizens of Porter. Mr. H. Hadley, brother of the bride and Miss Belle Sperry and Mr. S. B. Heddies and Miss Jennie M. Hadley, acting as bridesmaids and groomsmen of the bridal party. Immediately after the ceremony the entire bridal party accompanied the happy couple to Belleville, Wisconsin, where an elegant dinner awaited them. After partaking of this bountiful repast, they proceeded to the residence of Hon. John Chandler, at Mount Vernon, a brother-in-law of the groom, where the evening was pleasantly and happily spent in congratulations to the newly wedded couple. The following day Mr. and Mrs. William Foye bade adieu to the merry party, and intend visiting many prominent points of interest before they return home. May their future life be ever crowned with true happiness, and may prosperity be ever theirs is the wish of their many friends.

UNDRESS PARADE.

The first of the Shopiere cases for indecent exposure of person was tried before Justice Brooks yesterday afternoon. Several boys were charged with a like offense, it being claimed that as they were in bathing they needlessly exposed themselves to a gentleman and two ladies from Johnstown. The case in hand was one of these, it being the State vs. Charles Cole. The trial took all of yesterday, and was concluded about eleven o'clock last night. The jury consisted of Thor Jund, A. Kauffman, Alfred Alden, Evan Thomas, Albert Rider, and O. K. Chapman. They brought in a verdict of guilty, though on the first ballot it is understood that two of the number favored acquittal. Justice Brok fined the defendant $2 and costs, amounting in all to about $33. This was paid promptly. The other cases were adjourned two weeks. Some of the boys charged have not yet been arrested, but it is said that they will appear of their own accord in due time.

SHOWERS OF COMPLIMENTS.

The Freeport Journal of the 9th, contains the following and well deserved notices concerning the Janesville Companies and the Lower City Band:

THE YETS.
The "Janesville Veterans," a fine organization, composed largely of old soldiers, under command of Captain C. W. Baker, accompanied Gov. Smith to our city on Saturday, and remained until noon on Monday. About forty members were present, and although not so young and full of fire and energy as the "Guards," it is a fine organization. They expressed themselves as highly pleased with their reception and entertainment by our city. We hope they may again make us a visit.

BOWER CITY BAND.
This fine band which voluntarily accompanied Governor Smith and the Janesville Guards to our encampment, won hosts of friends while in our city. On Sunday evening they gave a sacred concert at Germania hall, and the performance is spoken of as being one of the finest that has been given in our city for many a day. Some of the most difficult pieces were rendered in a manner that would have done credit to Milwaukee's famous band. Prof. D. D. Bennett, the leader, has good reason to feel proud of his work. We hope on some future occasion he may be invited to return, that all of our people may have an opportunity to hear and judge of the merits of his band.

THE JANESVILLE GUARDS.

This magnificent organization, as we have previously stated, accompanied Governor Smith, of Wisconsin, as an escort on his visit to the Encampment of the 31 Regiment. They arrived on the noon train on Saturday, and remained until noon on Monday. From the moment when they filed out of the cars at the Western Union depot it was evident to every one that they were well entitled to the high honor conferred upon them, of acting as the Governor's Guard. The members of the company are all young men, their ages averaging about 20 years. Their uniform is a duplicate of that of the famous 7th New York, of light gray broad-cloth, handsomely made up, with buff facings. About 40 men were present under command of Capt. H. A. Smith and 21 Lieut. C. F. Chase, and from the manner in which they were formed and moved off they were taken for veterans. We were surprised when Capt. Smith informed us they were organized only about ten months ago.

On Sunday, after the grand review and inspection, in which they participated, they gave a short exhibition drill in front of the grand stand, which would have been creditable to the best drilled company in the State. Their evolutions were prompt as clock work, and in the manual of arms and bayonet drill, their muskets moved together as one piece of machinery, although the men had been on severe duty for hours. They were loudly and repeatedly cheered by the large audience in the stand, many of the spectators being soldiers belonging to other organizations.

On Monday the company formed at the Brewster House without arms, and accompanied by the Bower City Band, which came out from Janesville, marched to the Journal office, where the band treated us to one of their finest selections, for which we return our sincere thanks. They then surrounded the other offices and the Mayor, and marched back to the Brewster, where an excellent dinner had been prepared for them by mine host Gates. Dinner over they "fell in" and marched to the W. U. depot, and left for home on the 1 o'clock train. They speak in the highest terms of the handsome and generous manner in which they were received and entertained in Freeport and said they would be glad to avail themselves of any future opportunity to again visit our city, and hoped to be able some time in some way to reciprocate the many favors they had received at our hands. Captain Smith certainly has as fine a company as ever marched through our city, and it is justly proud of it, and although yet young—only about six months old—the best drilled companies in the 31 Regiment will have to "just" pretty lively, or the Janesville Guards will get away with them on drill and soldierly bearing the next time they meet. Capt. Smith has been invited by Col. Brazee to attend the Rockford fair in September, and expects to do so. Company "B" will do well to be on the alert for the Guards after them, and not very far after either.

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice is not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no tramping, no dithering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and accuse our physicians; we will not wince as a consultation is free.
